Redrawer desperately needed!

Phew. We made it. I hope you enjoy this release.

Funouhan had three chapters or so released solo by ttochen some time ago, and he was dragged into DT by Kabuto to do this series initially. We're re-launching from chapter one so we do proper editing.

Ironically, ttochen's other series with us, God, you bastard, I wanna kill you, was originally a bait chapter only, but now it has a complete team. As for Funouhan, when we got to do it we found we were in way above our heads.

As Ouroboros readers will know, this artist is a nightmare for redrawers. The cleaner, Kabuto, threw in the towel on redrawing after a while and I have to apologise to Pok for giving her this odd job with no less than 21 pages to redraw (much fewer than her assigned project, Sprite). In any case, it's thanks to her and the rest of the team that you can enjoy this chapter in all its glory.

Well, it so happens that we have all members for this except for a redrawer. I won't put Pok through this again, DT policy is to have people work in series they like: odd jobs like this are exceptions I ask as favours to ensure releases.

So, if you liked this chapter and are a Photoshop deity, I'll let you know that we have three more chapters translated and proofed, but without a redrawer they will never come to be (at least through our hands). We need help, and we need it as soon as possible!

If you are very experienced and can show us PSDs with impressive redraws on the level of the ones you found in this chapter, we can consider giving you the job without your having to take a test. Otherwise, you will have to take our Redrawing test and pass with flying colours.

Unfortunately, we're understaffed and don't have personnel to train applicants, so we need you to arrive to us fully accomplished in Photoshop use. Our series are tragically hard to redraw, so you will join quite the stellar team here: Sarrymast, Pok and Mii are incredibly skilled. So what are you waiting? Come be part of our loony house!

Odd pickings section - cleaner and redrawer crisis!
(<http://goo.gl/ZcVYfG>)

- Demon assassins: right now it is stalled because of me, the over-ambitious translator, but when chapter 02 comes out (being typeset, already redrawn) we will need a top-notch redrawer for future chapters. The requirements are the same as for Funouhan. Series description: <https://goo.gl/BhvDjd>

- Sprite: a cleaner is badly needed. They need to master Levelling, Unwarping, Sharpening, Cropping, Dodging, Burning, Rotating and Resizing.

Needless to say, all these series are in hiatus until the positions are filled, unless we have chapters ready.
